DIAGNOS announces separation of offices of chairman and CEO

Brossard, Quebec, Canada – July 24, 2009 - DIAGNOS inc. ("DIAGNOS" or the "Corporation") (VENTURE TSX: ADK), a leader in the use of artificial intelligence ("AI") and advanced knowledge extraction techniques, announced today that André Larente, currently Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of DIAGNOS, has announced his intention to step down, with immediate effect, as Chairman of the Board, to enable him to focus fully on developing the Corporation's new business opportunities. The Board will take this opportunity to separate in future the roles of Chairman and CEO, in line with general recommended corporate governance, and will announce a new Chairman in due course. Andre Larente remains as CEO and a Director on the Board of DIAGNOS.

About DIAGNOS

DIAGNOS can count on a multidisciplinary team that includes professionals in geophysics, geology, artificial intelligence, mathematics, information technology, as well as remote sensing and image interpretation. This team is helped by a dynamic administration, marketing and sales force to help serve its clientele at its very best in its three vertical markets: in addition to the data mining and predictions of best drilling targets, in its Natural Resources Division as its core market, Diagnos has developed unique data mining and prediction tools in the Healthcare (computer assisted retinal analysis) and Entertainment industry (music hit scoring) that are expected to make the Company a leader in each of these rapidly expanding sectors.
