1. Going concern assumption

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Corporation will continue to operate for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business.

In order to address these uncertainties, the Corporation is evaluating the implementation of some or all of the following measures:

- Continue the process of renewing contracts
- Reduce operating costs with temporary staff lay-offs, curtail certain consulting and travel costs
- Continue to seek debt financing
- Continue to seek equity financing consisting of common shares and stock purchase warrants
- Continue to evaluate possible M&A opportunities

The Corporation believes that if it were to be successful in implementing some or all of the above risk mitigating measures, it will be able to continue as a going concern. There remains however, significant risk and uncertainty associated with implementing any of these measures which are dependent on a number of factors outside of the Corporation’s control. The material uncertainty cast significant doubt regarding the ability to continue as a going concern.

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements do not reflect any adjustments that would be necessary if the going concern basis was not appropriate. Such adjustments, if required, may be material.

2. Statutes of incorporation and nature of activities

DIAGNOS Inc. (“the Corporation”) is incorporated under the Canada Business Corporations Act and the subsidiaries under the applicable regulations in their respective countries. The main office is located at 7005 Taschereau Blvd., Suite 340, Brossard, Quebec, Canada. The shares of the Corporation are listed on the TSX Venture Exchange.

The Corporation provides software-based interpretation services to assist health specialists in the detection of diabetic retinopathy.

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been approved and authorized for issue by the Board of Directors of the Corporation on November 29, 2018.

3. Basis of presentation and changes in significant accounting policies

Basis of consolidation
These interim condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Corporation and those of its subsidiaries. Subsidiaries consist of entities over which the Corporation has right, or is exposed, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. Subsidiaries' financial statements are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases. Subsidiaries' year end and accounting policies are aligned with those adopted by the Corporation.

Percentage of interest in the Corporation’s subsidiaries and associates, as at September 30, 2018, are as follows:

Name of entity	Location	Type of entity	Percentage of ownership
DMS & Technologies Inc.	Canada	Subsidiary	100%
8913404 Canada Inc.	Canada	Subsidiary	100%
Diagnos (USA) Inc.	United States of America	Subsidiary	100%
Diagnos Poland sp. Z o.o.	Poland	Subsidiary	100%
Diagnos Internacional SA de CV	Mexico	Subsidiary	99.8%
Diagnos Healthcare (India) Private Limited	India	Subsidiary	99.74%
SARL Diagnos Medical	Algeria	Associate	48%

Inter-company transactions and balances and any unrealized revenue and expense are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

Investment in associate is accounted for using the equity method. The carrying amount of the investment in associate is increased or decreased to recognize the Corporation's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate, adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the accounting policies of the Corporation. Unrealized gains and losses on transactions between the Corporation and its associate are eliminated to the extent of the Corporation's interest in the entity. Where unrealized losses are eliminated, the underlying asset is also tested for impairment.

Changes in significant accounting policies

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with standard IAS 34 – Interim Financial Reporting and do not include all of the information required for a full set of financial statements prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"). They, however, include specific complimentary notes in order to provide information necessary to assess the financial situation of the Corporation at period end since its last annual consolidated financial statements dated March 31, 2018.

Except for the changes below, the accounting policies used to prepare these interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements are those described in the last annual consolidated financial statements of the Corporation and have been applied throughout the period unless otherwise stated. This is the second set of the Corporation's financial statements where IFRS 15 and IFRS 9 have been applied. Changes to significant accounting policies are described hereinafter.

a) Revenue

On April 1, 2018, the Corporation adopted IFRS 15 – Revenue from contracts with customers. The adoption of IFRS 15 did not have an impact to the comparative figures presented in these interim condensed consolidated financial statements.

The Corporation operates in one reportable segment, healthcare services. Revenue from healthcare services typically arises from access to CARA, a web-based software tool used by healthcare professionals principally for the detection of diabetic retinopathy. Access to CARA usually includes sales support for the duration of the contract. In some cases, revenue may also arise from added services such as providing workforce to a client for the customization and the deployment of CARA. The Corporation accounts for the different services separately if they are distinct and the selling prices can be reasonably estimated.

The Corporation also renders consulting services to companies active in the healthcare sector and the mining sector. As this line of business is not strategic to the development of the Corporation, revenue amounts derived from consulting services are not presented separately.

Revenue is recognized when there is a transfer of control over a product or service to a customer, usually over the period in which the services are rendered. Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes sales tax amounts and other amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Billing of services is usually done on a monthly basis. Contract assets representing unbilled services rendered are presented under "Accounts receivable" in the consolidated statements of financial position. Contract liabilities representing amounts invoiced before the recognition of services or goods are presented under "Deferred revenue" in the consolidated statements of financial position.

Government grants

A government grant is recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the Corporation has (i) complied with all applicable conditions and (ii) the money will be received.

A grant related to assets is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position by deducting the grant in arriving at the carrying amount of the asset. A grant related to income is presented as other income in the consolidated statement of earnings and comprehensive loss.

b) Financial instruments

On April 1, 2018, the Corporation adopted IFRS 9 – Financial instruments. The adoption of IFRS 9 did not have an impact to the comparative figures presented in these interim condensed consolidated financial statements.

The following table below presents the new measurement categories under IFRS 9 compared to the original measurement categories as at March 31, 2018 for each class of the Corporation's financial assets and financial liabilities.

Description	New classification as of April 1, 2018	Original classification as of March 31, 2018
Cash	Financial assets at amortized cost	Loans and receivables
Short-term investments	Financial assets at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss ("FVTPL")	Fair Value Through Profit or Loss ("FVTPL")
Accounts receivable, except tax credits and sales taxes	Financial assets at amortized cost	Loans and receivables
Investments in entities other than subsidiaries and associates	Financial assets at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income ("FVOCI")[1]	Available for sale
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities (except salaries and benefits and sales taxes), convertible notes and convertible debentures	Financial liabilities at amortized cost	Amortized cost

The Corporation aggregates its financial instruments into classes based on their nature and characteristics. Management determines the classification when the instruments are initially recognized, which is normally on the date of the transaction. Transaction costs related to financial instruments are measured initially at fair value except for transaction costs related to FVTPL financial assets which are expensed as incurred and added to the carrying value of the asset or netted against the carrying value of the liability.

The following is a description of the policies for subsequent measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities.

Financial assets at FVTPL

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognized in profit or loss.

Financial assets at amortized cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognized in profit or loss.

Financial assets at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognized in OCI. Unlike IAS 39, the accumulated fair value reserve related to these investments will never be reclassified to profit and loss.

Financial liabilities at amortized cost

These liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expenses, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognized in profit or loss.

[1] The Corporation has irrevocably elected to present subsequent changes in the fair value of investments in entities other than subsidiaries and associates in Other Comprehensive Income.

Impairement of financial assets

The Corporation uses the expected credit losses impairment model with respect to its financial assets carried at amortized cost. The amount of expected credit losses is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since the initial recognition of the respective financial instrument. The Corporation accounts for expected credit losses over the life of financial assets measured at amortized cost. Expected credit losses over the life of the asset are expected credit losses for all of the default events that a financial instrument may experience over its expected life. The assessment of expected credit losses reflects reasonable and justifiable information about past events, current circumstances and forecasts of events and economic conditions and takes into account the factors specific to the accounts receivable, the general condition of the economy and a current as well as expected appreciation of the conditions prevailing at the balance sheet date, including the time value of the money, if any.

4. Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In preparing these interim condensed consolidated financial statements, management has made judgments and estimates that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. Actual results may differ from these estimates. IAS 34.15, 16A(d), 28 The significant judgments made by management in applying the Group's accounting policies and the key sources of estimation uncertainty were the same as those described in the last annual financial statements, except for new significant judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty related to the application of IFRS 15 and IFRS 9, which are described above.

5. Short-term investments

Guaranteed investment certificates are cashable without any penalties and therefore are presented as "current" in the statement of financial position.

Guaranteed investment certificates in the amount of $80,000 (March 31, 2018 - same) are pledged as security for an account payable of $23,163 (March 31, 2018 - $35,921).

Investments in associates are initially recorded at cost and are subsequently adjusted to reflect the Corporation's share in the net profit or loss of the associate and impairment loss. During the quarter ended December 31, 2017, as part of a private placement, the Corporation issued $1,000,000 worth of unsecured convertible and redeemable notes (each a “Q3-2018 Note”). The Q3-2018 Notes bear interest at an annual rate of 10%, and will mature on October 13 and 23, 2020 (the “Maturity Date”). At the sole option of the Q3-2018 Note holders, the principal amount of the Q3-2018 Notes may be converted at any time, in whole or in part, into common shares of the Corporation (each a “Share”) at a price of $0.16 per Share. Any accrued interest on the principal, at the time of conversion, will be immediately payable in cash. If, at any time after the first anniversary of the Q3-2018 Note and until maturity, the volume weighted average price of the Shares on the TSX Venture Exchange is equal to or higher than $0.28 for 20 consecutive trading days, the Q3-2018 Notes shall be redeemable, in whole or in part, at the sole option of the Corporation, into Shares of the Corporation at a price of $0.16 per Share. Any accrued interest on the principal, at time of redemption, will be immediately payable in cash. As part of the private placement, 1,000,000 stock warrants (each a “Warrant”) were issued to the Q3-2018 Note holders entitling the holder to purchase one Share of the Corporation per Warrant at a price of $0.22 per Share for a period of 18 months from the date of issuance.

The fair value of the Q3-2018 Notes has been established at $799,100 using the discounted cash flows valuation method with the following weighted average assumptions:

Maturity:	3 years	Nominal interest rate:	10%
Interest payment frequency:	2 per year	Effective interest rate:	20%

Of the difference of $200,900 between the nominal value of the Notes, $1,000,000, and its fair value of $799,100, an amount of $136,130 (net of deferred tax liability of $49,081) has been allocated to the conversion options and an amount of $11,531 (net of deferred tax liability of $4,158) has been allocated to the stock warrants prorated based on their respective fair values using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions:

Stock warrants:

b) Fair value hierarchy

Financial intruments

Financial instruments recorded at fair value in the consolidated statements of financial position are classified using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 - valuation based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 - valuation techniques based on inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices);
- Level 3 - valuation techniques using inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The fair value hierarchy requires the use of observable market inputs whenever such inputs exist. A financial instrument is classified at the lowest level of the hierarchy for which a significant input has been considered in measuring fair value.

The following tables present the financial instruments recorded at fair value in the consolidated statements of financial position classified using the fair value hierarchy described above:

The Corporation has determined that the fair value of its current financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost approximate their carrying amounts as at the balance sheet dates because of their short-term maturity.

The fair value of short-term investments was based on quoted prices in active markets.

The fair value of loans, convertible notes and convertible debentures was estimated by discounting expected cash flows at rates offered to the Corporation for debts of the same remaining maturities and conditions.

Non-financial instruments

The fair value of leases was $38,114 as at September 30, 2018 ($48,827 as at March 31, 2018) and estimated by discounting expected cash flows at rates currently offered to the Corporation for debts of the same remaining maturities and conditions.

c) Risks

The Corporation is exposed to certain risks which could have a material impact on its ability to achieve its strategic growth objectives. The Corporation strives to control and mitigate its business and financial risks through management practices that require the ongoing evaluation, identification and implementation of risk mitigating measures that help reduce or eliminate risks related to its business operations.

The following describes the Corporation's main financial risks:

i. Credit Risks

In the normal course of business, the Corporation's exposure to credit risk results from the possibility that a customer or financial institution may default, in part or in whole, on their financial obligations, as they come due.

Cash and short-term investments

Cash as well as short-term investments are mainly risk-free or low-risk investments, such as cash and guaranteed term deposits held by recognized financial institutions. None of these short-term investments consist of asset-backed commercial paper. Consequently, management considers the credit risk related to cash and short-term investments to be low as at September 30, 2018 and March 31, 2018.

Customers and demand loans

In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit terms to its customers. The Corporation reviews and, if required, establishes allowances for doubtful accounts on a regular basis. For other accounts receivable including demand loan, the Corporation determines, on a continuing basis, the probable losses and establishes a provision to account for such losses based on the estimated realizable value.

As at September 30, 2018, 23% of accounts receivable from customers was attributable to seven customers active in the healthcare industry (82% as at March 31, 2018, from one customer). It should be noted that given the specialization of the Corporation's market niche, it is most likely that such concentration risk is expected to continue. However, from one year to the next, it is rare that the same customers make up this concentration. Despite the concentration of its customers, the credit risk is mitigated through monitoring of its customers and the additional measures available to the Corporation, as previously described.

Additionally, as at September 30, 2018:

- 50% of the net accounts receivable are over 90 days old (1% as at March 31, 2018);
- accounts receivable from customers exceeding the normal payment terms of 30 days for which no allowance was applied represented 62% of the net accounts receivable from customers (92% as at March 31, 2018).

Management is reasonnably assured that its receivables will be collected, and therefore considers the credit risk related to accounts receivable to be low as at September 30, 2018 and March 31, 2018.

ii. Liquidity Risks

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Corporation cannot meet its obligations as they come due. On an ongoing basis, the Corporation monitors and manages its actual and projected cash flows, with the primary objectives of maintaining liquidity and financial flexibility. In addition, the Corporation's policy is to target contracts that will generate positive cash flows throughout their execution.

As at September 30, 2018, accounts payable, convertible notes, convertible debentures and leases that were due in the next 12 months totalled $2,955,093 including non-financial instruments (March 31, 2018 - $1,012,848). Considering the available liquidities to meet its obligations, the Corporation's exposure to liquidity risk as at September 30, 2018 and March 31, 2018 is high and is dependant on the Corporation's ability in securing additional financing and achieving and maintaining profitable operations. Refer to going concern assumptions in note 1.

iii. Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk refers to the adverse consequences of interest rate changes on the Corporation's cash flows, financial position and income. Interest rate changes directly impact the fair value of the fixed interest rate accounts of the financial statements.

The Corporation is not exposed to interest risk since its financial instruments bear interest at fixed rate and are presented at amortized cost.

iv. Market Risk

Market risk refers to the adverse consequences of stock price changes on the Corporation's investments in shares. Investments in shares are currently mainly composed of shares of corporations traded on the TSX Venture Exchange. As at September 30, 2018, considering the value of investments in shares of $20,000 (March 31, 2018 – $55,719), a change of 50% in the market value of these shares would not have a significant impact on the Corporation's expenses.

v. Exchange Rate Fluctuations Risk

Exchange rate fluctuations risk refers to the adverse consequences of exchange rate changes on the Corporation's cash flows, financial position and income. During the period, revenues and expenses arose from transactions occuring in Canadian dollars and other currencies.

The Corporation is exposed to fluctuations in the currency rates of six currencies (USD, MXN, INR, PLN, AED, Euro). Movements in foreign currencies against the Canadian dollar may impact revenues, the nominal amount of certain financial assets and financial liabilities, and negatively affect the Corporation's profit or loss.

Assuming that all other variables remain constant, a 10% increase or decrease in the exchange rate of the Canadian dollar, against other currencies, would not have a significant impact on the Corporation's net loss for the six-month periods ended September 30, 2018 and September 30, 2017.
